

I am excited to run for Delegate of the VPTA. I was proud to represent Virginia these past three years as a delegate. I have felt a huge sense of pride as our profession takes great strides at every House of Delegates meeting. The time spent in a room of the most influential therapists around the country inspires me to better myself every year. I desire to learn more about the direction of the APTA and bring that knowledge back to Virginia for us to make our voices heard.

I notice the biggest challenges our profession faces fall within staying ahead of the evolving healthcare changes. We are very innovative and creative, but our policies often limit us from impacting the community to our maximum capabilities.

I began my service as a DPT student at Shenandoah University in the SIGG and continued at the district level as Communications Chair and Treasurer since graduation in 2014. I am also a member of the Conference Committee for the American Academy of Orthotic Manual Physical Therapy (AAOMPT).
