

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Nicole Quarne

Physical Therapist, Biofeedback Certification International Alliance Pelvic Muscle Dysfunction (BCIA-PMD)

Master of Physical Therapy, UW- La Crosse

Marshfield Clinic Health System Physical Therapist

1. How would you identify and mentor new leaders within the WPTA?

Identifying and mentoring new leaders within the WPTA can occur at district meetings, state conferences, and continuing education courses. Networking at WPTA events can identify passionate individuals that would be willing to serve our profession. There are many volunteer and service opportunities available within the WPTA. We as the nominating committee, can help facilitate candidates serving in roles that fit their passion.

2. What skills and experiences qualify you to serve on the Nominating Committee?

My experiences, relationships, and communication skills will help me to identify our current and emerging leaders in the WPTA and connect those individuals with service opportunities. I have been in the WPTA for over 22 years. During that time, I have served in numerous roles in the Northwest and Northcentral districts. I served on the WPTA Board of Directors for several years as the Northcentral District Chairperson. I also served on the WPTA Finance Committee and Professional Development Committees. Throughout my time in the WPTA, I have collaborated closely between our district and our chapter for district functions, continuing education events, fundraisers, and conference planning. One of my favorite things about being involved in the WPTA is networking with amazing professionals that are passionate about physical therapy.